

Disabled Parking Warning Notice

As you have parked in a disabled parking space, but have not displayed your Disability Parking Placard and your vehicle does not have a Disabled License plate, please check all that applies to you.

- Sorry, I forgot my Disability Parking Placard.
- I'm an idiot & enjoy making disabled people struggle.
- I'm just lazy and couldn't be bothered to walk.
- I want to be disabled and just practicing.
- The voices in my head told me to park here.
- I'm just too important to think about others.
- I'm not disabled but I'm shopping for a disabled person.
- I do not understand the English language.
- I am updating my retail goods in this store and should be back shortly.
- I suffer from Terminal laziness.
- I have Attention Deficit Disorder.
- My inner child was bugging me for ice cream.
- My shoes are too expensive to walk in.
- Wheelchair symbol? I thought it was a rocking chair.
- My religion forbids acts of common courtesy.
- I am disabled by a painfully swollen ego.
- I have as much right to park here as a disabled person.
- No matter the reason, will be back shortly.

Your vehicle has been photographed by my cell phone and it will be emailed to the local Law Enforcement Agency with a date & time stamp on the picture in hopes they will contact you.

The fine is can exceed over three hundred dollars ($300) and the loss of your driver's license.

If a person violates the law regarding parking in accessible spaces, the local law enforcement agencies have the authority to issue tickets.

Additionally, some communities have volunteers who enforce parking laws.

Have a Nice Day
